Tasmania's native forests

building our world driving our economy

My joinery business relies on high quality timbers from Tasmania's native forests.

I employ some 35 Tasmanians and the windows, doors, cupboards and home features that we build for Tasmanians can only come from timber harvested from our native forests.

Put simply, my business, like many others, wouldn't exist without the harvesting of native forest timbers.

